DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claim 65 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claim 65 directs to non functional information on a medium . Since the information do not provide any functional interrelationship to the medium to control the medium or access the information from the medium, or impart to any software and hardware structural components to provide certain function that is processed by a computer , the information do not make them statutory . See MPEP 2100..

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 65 -68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hiroshima .

Regarding claims 65- 68 , Hiroshima teaches a method for recording data on an information storage medium (Fig.6) comprising:

a data area (payload data area) configured to store stream data, the stream data including a plurality of data units (packs) each containing a plurality of transport packets including an I-picture of MPEG data (column 1, lines 5-15) and each serving as a unit of access; and a management area (header area) configured to store management information, the management information including table information indicating a relationship between presentation timestamp information and a corresponding access point in the stream data (Figs 6, 7, 9a).

Further for claims 67 and 68, Hiroshima further teaches means for reproducing the data and management information (Fig 18).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 65-68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Moris et al (5,854,873) in view of Na (US 2001/0028780).

Regarding claims 65-68, Moris teaches method (Fig. 1) of recording information on an information storage medium including, a data area configured to store stream data, the stream data including a plurality of data units each containing a plurality packets including an I-picture of MPEG data and each serving as a unit of access, and a management area configured to store management information, the management information including table information indicating a relationship between presentation timestamp information (cell presentation time information) and a corresponding access point in the stream data (column 21).

Moris fails to specifically teaches that the stream data including transport packets .

Na teaches a recording/ reproducing apparatus having a recording means for recording the data unit including transport packets (section 0029). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Moris with Na by using a recording means as taught by Na for receiving transport packets and recording the transport packets as access units thereby enhancing the capacity of the Moris apparatus for recording transport packets as an additional source.

Further for claims 66 and 67, Moris as modified with Na further teaches recording and recording the management data (See Moris Fig. 2, Na Fig. 1).

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to new claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
